Preparations:

1. Endoscopy teleconference, connecting multiple stations.
2. Network configuration will be illustrated and announced later from CERNET team, China.

- This is not a live demonstration but just teleconference, using slides and recorded videos.
- We use new system called “DVTS+”, whose bandwidth is flexible up to around 30Mbps.
- This new system is expected to several advantages, such as more connection sites, compatibility both to PAL and NTSC, and possible link to stations with lower bandwidth as well.
- However, because this is the first time trial, any of your feedback is welcome. Your kind understanding for possible problems is very much appreciated, too.
- Prepare flat monitors at each station for better quality if available.
- In order to avoid sound echo, please prepare a microphone with on-off switch or with uni-directional function.
