

Mr. Landry is the Health Information Technical Officer with the WHO Western Pacific Regional Office (WPRO). Mr. Landry's primary responsibilities are supporting countries with maximizing health outcomes with the aid of eHealth solutions and strengthening overall national health information systems (HIS). He has fifteen years of experience providing technical assistance to developing country governments and organizations in Asia, Africa, the Middle East, and the Americas. His experience ranges from developing eHealth and HIS policies, strategies, and operational plans as well as standards-based design, development and implementation of eHealth and building institutional and individual capacity on data collection, quality, management, and use of health information.

mobile: +63 908.866.1934

email: landrym@wpro.who.int